

S. H. S. SECONDS THE WINNERS

Defeated Whitcomb High School Last Night, 39 to 28

SUB-"VARSITY" TEAM SHOWED UP WELL

And Gave Promise of Good Material for the First Team Another Year

With one of the best men absent from the lineup, Spaulding's second team managed to keep a lead of several points over its opponent. Whitcomb high of Bethel, in the Spaulding gymnasium last evening and when the final whistle ended the game the Bethel team was defeated 39-28.

At the outset, or to be more exact, about a minute after the game started, a Bethel man scored a basket but only a short time elapsed before the home team caged the ball and then gained a lead that could not be overcome. The Bethel team was somewhat heavier than the Spaulding team, losing this advantage however on the unfamiliar floor.

The first period ended 28-14 in Spaulding's favor. This score was made after the seconds had made several shots from difficult angles, some of these coming directly from the side. The visitors, having become accustomed to the ball, played better ball in the second half, making the game more interesting for a while. Their shooting was wild in many instances, however. Mitiguy seemed to cage the ball nearly every time it struck his hands, losing but few shots during the entire game. He was well supported by LaVere and Morrill, both of whom played hard throughout.

More interesting than the game to some of the onlookers was the good material for the Spaulding school team

MAKES FOOD TASTE

Good—Hood's Sarsaparilla Creates an Appetite.

Aids digestion and promotes assimilation so that the body secures full nutritive value, thus naturally making the weak strong and giving the vitality of health. This great medicine enables the digestive organs to perform their functions easily, keeps the stomach sweet and relieves or prevents indigestion and other digestive troubles. When your food does taste good it is a sign of good or returning health; shows that the blood is becoming richer, routing scrofula, eczema, rheumatism and other diseases, and that the system is being built up to overcome that tired feeling, and the prostration that follows influenza and fevers. The one medicine that can legitimately claim to do all this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. If a mild laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills; an active cathartic, more Hood's Pills.—Adv.

NO RADICAL CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

Are Likely to Be Made By the Football Rules Committee Now in Conference.

New York, March 13.—The football rules committee reconvened this morning after a five hours' session last night, during which various proposed changes in the sport were considered, but no action taken. Members of the committee indicated that there would be no radical changes in the rules this year.

EBERT SERVED ONLY ONE YEAR

Was Elected President in 1919 for a Term of Seven Years

WAS PAN-GERMAN OR IMPERIALISTIC

A Record of Events Since His Inauguration Is Here Given

Friedrich Ebert, who was to-day forced out as president of the German government, was formerly head of the main committee of the Reichstag and a leader of the Social Democratic party. He was elected first president of the new German "progressive republic" for a term of seven years on Feb. 11, 1919, by the National Assembly at Weimar. He has been characterized as a type of Pan-German or imperialistic Socialist.

It was the Ebert government which arose from the ruins of the Hohenzollern dynasty and which enabled the entente allies to conclude peace with Germany.

On Nov. 10, 1918, when former Emperor William abdicated and fled, Ebert was the imperial chancellor, having succeeded Prince Maximilian of Baden, who was instrumental in negotiating the armistice. He at once assumed command and succeeded in quelling revolutionary outbreaks. The red flag was hoisted over the Brandenburg gate and the royal palace after wild scenes in Berlin, where the people shouted "Long live the republic!" and sang the "Marseillaise."

The new government will be a government of the people," Chancellor Ebert said. "It must make every effort to secure in the quickest possible time peace for the German people and consolidate the liberty they have won. The new government has taken charge of the administration to preserve the German people from civil war and famine and to accomplish their legitimate claims to autonomy."

The Independent Socialists, including a radical element favorable to bolshevism and known as Spartacists, complicated Ebert's problem. When he became chancellor many of these radicals, including Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, were freed from prison and the two mentioned were subsequently assassinated.

The National Assembly which elected Ebert was formed for the purpose of adopting a constitution. Its document, which was approved last Aug. 2, provided that "the executive power lies with the people." The power of the upper chamber of the Reichstag was limited similar to the British House of Lords. There was special protection for labor and "generally accepted rules of international law" were incorporated in the new instrument. Ebert took the oath of office on Aug. 23 and two days later the National Assembly ceased to exist, it being superseded by the new Reichstag.

Philipp Scheidemann was the first premier of Germany under Ebert. Gustave Noske, formerly minister of demobilization and before that governor of Kiel, was named the first minister of army and navy. By reason of his drastic enforcement of new regulations he became known as a "dictator."

Other members of the first Ebert cabinet follow: Minister of interior, Herr Preuss; minister of justice, Herr Sanderberg; minister of commerce, Herr Muller; minister of labor, Herr Bauer; minister of foreign affairs, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, former German minister to Denmark; under foreign minister, Herr Richthofen; minister of finance, Herr Schiffer; minister of postal and telegraphs, Herr Geisberg; minister without portfolio, Dr. Matthias Erzberger; armistice commissioner, former state secretary and leader of the Communist party; Eduard David, president of the National Assembly, and Herr Wissel.

The Ebert government underwent many changes by reason of political, economic and popular demands. The first real crisis to threaten the Ebert regime, however, arose over the question of accepting the peace treaty terms. Ebert, Scheidemann and other leaders were opposed to yielding to the entente demands. Scheidemann resigned and a pro-treaty cabinet, including Dr. August Muller and ex-Labor Secretary Bauer, former Socialist member of the Reichstag, was organized. Bauer, in a speech at Weimar before the National Assembly, denounced the treaty in strong terms, but announced the government's decision to sign.

For weeks before the revolution broke out in Berlin there was a steady run on German banks. Ebert, then chancellor, after a conference in Berlin on Nov. 25, 1918, with 70 delegates from various parts of Germany, said: "Everything was in ruin when we took charge. Now, however, a Socialist republic has replaced the monarchy and power has been put in the hands of the workmen and soldiers." The first aim to be achieved, he said, was peace and the security of an economic basis. Liberty, he maintained, was worthless without food, and employment and it was as a result of this conference that the National Assembly met last spring to devise a constitutional form of government.

Meanwhile the provisional government had been in an almost constant state of flux. Ministers came and went. Owing to scarcity of food, clothing and fuel, conditions in many parts of Germany were reported desperate and there were many rumors that so-called government would supersede the Ebert regime.

President Ebert had the backing of the moderates of Germany almost from the beginning. One reason for this was that when he succeeded Prince Maximilian he announced that property rights would be respected, that no banks would be seized and that the government would uphold the German war losses and pay all claims on the state.

The president in a New Year manifesto said that 1920 would decide whether Germany would maintain herself as a nation. A week later he was threatened by a mob in Stuttgart. On the preceding Dec. 12, the Ebert cabinet's fall was reported as likely as a result of the allied demands over the Scapa Flow sinkings.

THOUGHT SHE HAD HEART DISEASE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Made Complete Cure of Stomach Trouble

MRS. FRANK W. WALLACE
Moultonville, Carroll Co., N. H.
"An account I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' or Fruit Liver Tablets in one of our newspapers prompted me to try this remedy."

I was all run down and work was burdensome owing to indigestion and fullness, due to gas on my stomach which caused me to belch a good deal. My heart seemed to be affected.

It was two years ago that I was in this condition and began the use of 'Fruit-a-tives'. Even though the trouble had been of a few years standing, the use of 'Fruit-a-tives' proved the very remedy I required. I was freed of the indigestion, which I attributed to my heart; and I can conscientiously recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' as a remedy of merit."

WILDE BETTER IN HOT FIGHT

British Flyweight Champion Seemed to Be Master of Frankie Mason

ONE OF GREATEST FIGHTS EVER SEEN

The Britisher Put Up a Most Aggressive Exhibition

Toledo, O., March 13.—According to newspaper experts gathered at the ringside last night, Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, easily bested Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Ind., American aspirant for the title, after 12 rounds of spectacular fighting. Wilde, as his share of the purse, received $10,000, while Mason received $5,000. The auditorium where the bout was held was filled to capacity, about 3,700 enthusiasts being present. A number of women were scattered about the hall.

The fight was one of the greatest seen in this country, according to experts. Ed Smith, the referee, declared he never saw a more aggressive fighter than Wilde. He could not render a decision in the affair under the boxing commission rules but intimated, however, that if a decision was rendered a draw would have been a fair verdict.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

It was the custom of our grandparents when anything was the matter with their stomach, liver or kidneys, to take a remedy composed of the right kind of roots and herbs, and by so doing lived to a ripe old age. It is also true that the Shakers, who have always depended upon the life-giving juices of leaves, roots and herbs, are long-lived people. The roots and herbs of which SEVEN BARKS is principally composed were gathered by the Shakers for many, many years, then scientifically blended, and SEVEN BARKS has become famous as one of the most reliable remedies for indigestion, constipation, liver, kidney and stomach disorders.

Dull pains in the back, often under the shoulder blades, poor digestion, heartburns or flutterings, sour risings, yellow skin mean liver troubles, and you should take SEVEN BARKS; it will relieve you, as it will make the liver active, tone up the digestive organs and cause the bowels to act normally. SEVEN BARKS is not a cure-all, but a very reliable remedy that will at once act on the liver, stomach and bowels, sets them on right, tones and strengthens the general health.

If you want to get the greatest efficiency out of your body, enjoy and prolong your life, take SEVEN BARKS. At druggists, 60 cents a bottle. Don't put it off; get it to-day.—Adv.

UP-TO-DATE EQUIPMENT.

London "Bobbies" to Have Flashlights Instead of Kerosene Lamps.

London, March 13.—One of the most picturesque features of the varied outfit of the London policeman, the old-fashioned oil dark-lantern is to give place to the electric flashlight.

The London "bobby" has been accustomed when darkness fell to light his lamp and attach it to his belt at the back slightly on the right side. It generated too much heat, was cumbersome and when a policeman engaged in a scuffle with a criminal his clothing was generally sprinkled with kerosene.

WORLD'S LARGEST DIRIGIBLE.

Will Be Built at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Philadelphia, March 13.—The world's largest dirigible will be built at the Philadelphia navy yard. In it a company of navy men will attempt flight across the Pacific.

Fifty-two draftsmen gave their services to the work of designing the great airship. Work will soon be begun on the plans. It will be developed along lines similar to the R-34, which made the successful trans-Atlantic flight. The dirigible will weigh about 33 tons, and will have a carrying capacity of 30 tons.

TURKEY IS NOW GIVING ALARM

Official England Is Showing Evidences of Anxiety

TURKISH DEFIANCE IS ONE WORRY

The Allied Plans Are Constantly Being Ignored

London, March 13.—Official England is showing evidences of anxiety over the settlement of the Turkish problem and the situation rapidly developing in southwestern Europe. The attitude of indifference or defiance assumed by the Turkish nationalists, signs of unrest throughout the Moslem world and activities of Russian bolsheviks in Afghanistan combine to give a serious aspect to the tangle. Advances stating Prince who is son of the king of the Hedjaz, has been proclaimed king of Syria and another element to the situation which may easily lead to trouble in that region. Allied governments have not indicated what their attitude toward the new kingdom and its ruler may be, as the movement was ignored or underestimated by officials up until the last few days.

Turks in Constantinople are apparently ignoring allied plans for enforcing the terms of peace with their country and protecting non-Moslem peoples, reports declare, and the fact that there is a strong demand for the expulsion of the sultan from Europe has caused hardly a ripple at the Turkish capital.

From Constantinople to Afghanistan there seems to be a spirit of opposition to the allies which may appear to foreshadow a culmination of events within a short time.

AMERICAN DEAD BEING RETURNED

Fifty Thousand Will Be Brought Back from France—Lack of Materials Delay Work.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The bodies of about fifty thousand of the American dead in France will be returned to the United States, while between 30,000 and 25,000 will remain permanently interred overseas. Secretary Baker yesterday informed Chairman Wadsworth of the Senate military committee.

The secretary, who wrote in response to a Senate resolution, estimated the cost of returning the dead and concentrating the bodies remaining in cemeteries overseas at $30,000,000. Congestion of the French transportation systems and shortage on materials used in the manufacture of coffins is handicapping the work, Mr. Baker said.

While 111 bodies of American dead have been returned from Archangel, Secretary Baker said, the same number still remained in northern Russia, and it was improbable that anything could be done toward their removal for a year.

Evacuation of bodies in England is progressing, he added, while in Italy all bodies have been concentrated ready for return to this country.

MOTORS SUPPLANTING HORSE.

Number of Equines of Farms Has Been Diminishing Since 1913.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The extent to which motor vehicles are supplanting the horse on farms is a problem, department of agriculture experts declare, after a recent survey, which disclosed that at least 50,000 farmers in the country own motor trucks which they use on their farms. Passenger cars and trailers were excluded. In many cases the introduction of a truck on a farm indicates provision for increased hauling rather than an actual reduction in the number of horses used.

Horses on farms reached their maximum in 1913, and since then have been gradually decreasing. Their number on Jan. 1 this year was 21,109,000, a decrease of 373,000 head from Jan. 1 last year. The horse market is regarded as unsettled and the future equally uncertain. The best demand during the last year has been in the South.

No Other Light Car Offers So Much

Unusual power and control, quick pick-up and extraordinary acceleration to real speed, are features inherent in the Cleveland Six and features with which Cleveland owners are delighted.

Many a Cleveland Six owner has said, "It would be hard to tell you what a good car the Cleveland honestly is. It's wonderful."

The Cleveland is wonderful because it is a splendidly developed and finished product, not a car rushed into the market. Three years ago the plans for production of this car were far advanced. But, with war approaching, production and marketing were delayed though experimental and test cars kept on the road. When war ended, came the Cleveland.

Built in a fine big factory, with all conditions and equipment assuring the very best of manufacture, and built by men whose successful experience had been wholly in the production of fine cars, the Cleveland Six began rolling out to the world last August. Since then thousands have gone to delighted owners, and thousands more are going every month.

There isn't any other light car that will give you so much of all that you wish, and at such a fair price.
